Carlson: Tilted Universe

Tilted Universe

Rebecca Carlson

How can I walk in a straight line

When the axis of the world has tilted

When the sky whirls into the ground

And the trees weave and wander

Over the dreams lurking in the shadows

And spinning in all directions is the future

As it always circles around the past

Yesterday's oceans drowning tomorrow's mountains

The sand smoothing away my footsteps

While the clouds fall from the sky

While the equator points north

How can I live a life undisturbed
