5-1-2003

John Wayne's

Jennifer Hallenius
Concordia University - Portland

Follow this and additional works at: http://commons.cu-portland.edu/promethean
Part of the Poetry Commons

Recommended Citation
Available at: http://commons.cu-portland.edu/promethean/vol11/iss2/14
JOHN WAYNE'S

Jennifer Hallenius

John Wayne's defunct who used to ride an ordinary brown horse and ride a onetwothree; fourfive pony, just like that Wheeew doggie he was a tough man and what I want to know is how do you like your cowboy Pilgrim

ADVICE

Debbie Holts

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood
The age-old adage goes;
How do I decide what is good
At every fork in the road?

"Take the road less traveled by," encourage some iconoclasts.
"Come with us; choose this life" sound out the passing mass.

Where should I go? What should I do?
The voices in my head make no sense.
So, I listen to my heart, to myself am true,
And that has made all the difference.